

Women Of The Word

Welcome

Welcome to 2024!! Another year has come and gone already? I never cease to be amazed by how time flies by. The passage of time brings changes with it, and the Women's Ministry is no exception... I am so excited to welcome the following new committee members: Brooke Black, Donna Jewell, Erin Lassey, Caitlin Murrow, and Vanessa Wisdom.

We also want to extend a tremendous thank you to Jennifer Berges for her many years of serving on our committee! Her "retirement" is well-deserved. (But we don't plan on letting her get too far away!!) 😊

Happy New Year to you all!!

We All Face Struggles

A dear friend's recent post on Facebook reminded me that even during the holiday season life can deal us struggles. Perhaps you also are walking through a season of struggles this holiday season? Maybe you are wondering if, and when this difficult season will pass? Well take heart dear sister, scripture reminds us that God often uses our trials for our own good. Paul offers us some encouragement in 2 Corinthians chapter 1. Speaking of his own struggles, Paul says, "we were crushed and overwhelmed beyond our ability to endure" and "we thought we would never live through it" (2 Cor. 1:8). Paul and his companions faced many trials and hardships, even to the point that they wondered if they would survive. Paul, later reflecting on their struggles says, "but as a result we stopped relying on ourselves and learned to rely only on God" (2 Cor. 1:9).

Have you ever considered that God could be using your struggles to teach you to rely on Him? Perhaps God's purpose in your affliction is to drive you to seek Him?

Paul concluded by saying, God "did rescue us from mortal danger, and He will rescue us again. We have placed our confidence in Him and He will continue to rescue us" (2 Cor. 1:10). May we be women that draw nearer to God in our hardships, knowing that He is the greatest source of comfort. May we be like Paul and place our confidence in God, trusting Him to rescue us!

It could be that you aren't going through a current season of struggle, but you know someone who is. "God is our merciful Father and the source of all comfort. He comforts us in all our troubles SO THAT we can comfort others" (2 Cor. 1:4). If you know someone who is struggling, be a source of comfort to them. Pray for them.

Love them. Walk closely with them, letting them know they aren't alone. If possible, help carry their burden. "Two people are better off than one, for they can help each other succeed. If one person falls, the other can reach out and help." (Ecclesiastes 4:9).

Love and prayers,
Vanessa

Spiritual Disciplines

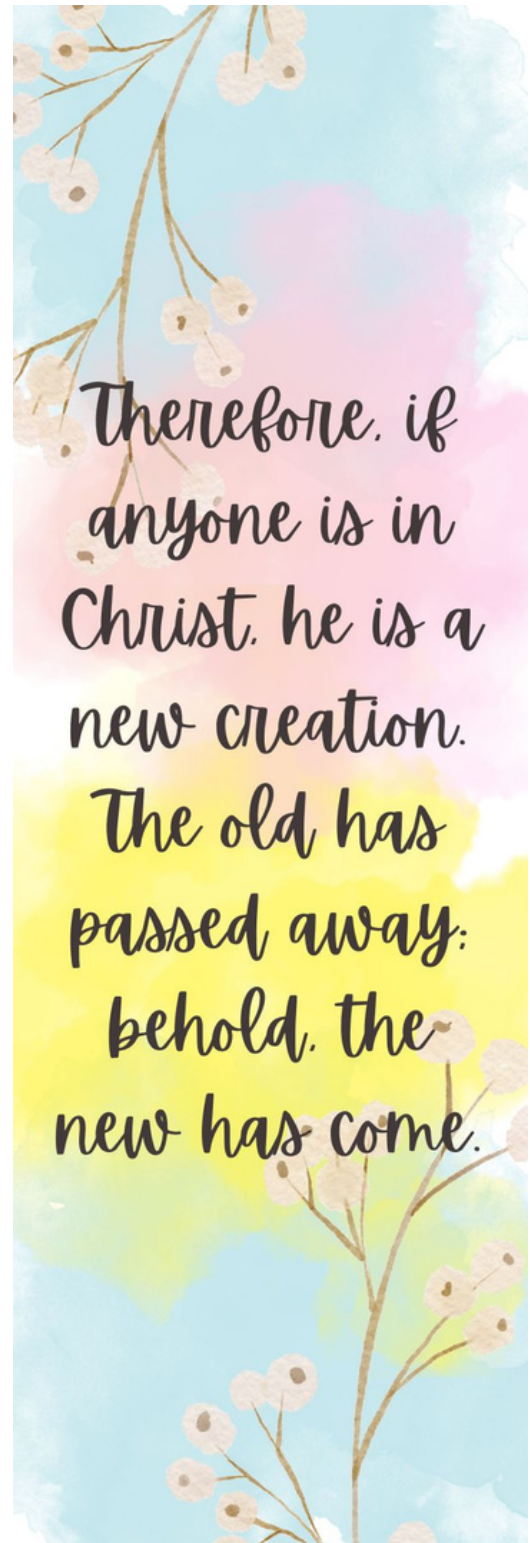

Spiritual disciplines are a means to experience amazing grace and abundant joy in the Lord. Spiritual disciplines are activities that believers do. Traditionally these activities include Bible intake (hearing, reading, studying, meditating on and memorizing Scripture), prayer, fasting, worship, service, fellowship, solitude, and celebration. Theologians have included evangelism and discipleship, stewardship, and journaling under the umbrella of spiritual disciplines as well. The goal of each spiritual discipline is growth in intimacy with God. These disciplines are found in scripture and they are to be practiced individually and corporately for the edification of the body of Christ.

In a sense, there is a mechanical aspect to these disciplines - believers find methods of praying, follow a reading plan, strategically pray for certain topics on certain days, etc. However, practicing the spiritual disciplines in a way that honors God and results in true spiritual maturity goes beyond mechanics. Methodology is powerless to change the inner man. Inner transformation is a work of God. Spiritual disciplines are the outworking of a redeemed heart.

Spiritual disciplines are for all believers, no matter where we are on the trajectory toward holiness. All that is required is a deep longing to know and love God. Though the intentional effort is required, the will to discipline ourselves is rooted in our hearts having been changed by the gospel.

Over the next several months, we will be sharing about some of the spiritual disciplines.
